

El Hagakure (que significa a la sombra de las hojas o escondido en la vegetación) es una obra literaria japonesa dictada por Yamamoto Tsunetomo a uno de sus aprendices entre 1710 y 1717, inspirada en el celebre código Bushido. Se trata de un compendio de los ideales de los bushi tradicionalistas. En los años de Tsunetomo muchos bushi despreciaban las viejas usanzas de los de su clase y se enriquecían con ardidés considerados innobles por las personas civilizadas del Japón de la era Tokugawa, como el comercio (en aquella época los comerciantes eran el último eslabón de la pirámide social en Japón). Esto le movió a escribir este libro en el que se describe por primera vez el bushido, es decir el código guerrero de los samurai.
